

CASTORIA

for Infants and Children.

Don't Poison Baby.

FORTY YEARS AGO almost every mother thought her child must have paregoric or laudanum to make it sleep. These drugs will produce sleep, and a few drops too many will produce the sleep from which there is no waking. Many are the children who have been killed or whose health has been ruined for life by paregoric, laudanum and morphine, each of which is a narcotic product of opium. Druggists are prohibited from selling either of the narcotics named to children at all, or to anybody, without labeling them "poison." The definition of "narcotic" is: "A medicine which relieves pain and produces sleep, but which in poisonous doses produces stupor, coma, convulsions and death." The taste and smell of medicines containing opium are disguised, and sold under the names of "Drops," "Cordials," "Soothing Syrups," etc. You should not permit any medicine to be given to your children without you or your physician know of what it is composed. Castoria does not contain narcotics.

The signature of Dr. H. H. Fletcher guarantees genuine Castoria. Physicians Recommend Castoria.

"I have frequently prescribed Castoria for common ailments of children with good results." W. A. CHANDALL, M. D., Buffalo, N. Y.

"As the father of thirteen children I certainly know something about your great medicine and, aside from my own family experience, I have, in my years of practice, found Castoria a popular and efficient remedy in almost every home." Wm. J. McCRACKEN, M. D., Omaha, Neb.

MORTARS MAKE SPLENDID RECORD SEVEN ACTUAL HITS OUT OF TEN

Thousand Pound Projectiles Travel Three Miles and Fall Within Few Yards of Small Moving Target Towed by the Tug Navajo

It was announced this afternoon that the mortar battery at Fort Ruger had scored seven actual hits in yesterday's record firing. The battery was firing at a range of approximately five miles, and to score a hit it was necessary to drop the projectile within a radius of fifty yards of the small target used as a marker. This record compares favorably with any mortar battery in the service, and is considered excellent by army officers here.

Excellent work marked the second firing of the Fort Ruger mortars yesterday afternoon, in what is known as "emergency practice." Ten projectiles were hurled skyward and seaward, from Battery Harlow, hidden behind the sheltering palm and crater of Diamond Head, and, at a range of more than five miles, these thousand-pound engines of destruction met the water within a few yards of the small target which was being towed across the zone of fire by the navy tug Navajo. Had the target been a battleship, and had the mortars been fired in salvos of four, as would be the case in war time, instead of singly, every shot would have been a hit.

The firing yesterday was far above that of Monday. The deflection—meaning the distance to right and left of the target that the shots struck—was excellent, almost all striking well within the 50-yard radius which means a hit. For range—meaning over or short of the target—there were no less than eight hits out of the ten shots fired, an excellent record.

The firing yesterday was in what is known as the seventh zone, the range being from 8,240 to 8,550 yards. At this range the projectiles travel more than three miles in the air before turning in their course, and curving downward. It was not until 4:15 that the first shot was fired, there being delays in maneuvering the tug into the proper zone, and then on the proper course to assure a smooth and unobstructed tow of the target across the line of fire. Just as the mortars were about ready to open up, the liner Marama steamed into dangerous proximity, and it was necessary to hold up for fully half an hour longer to allow the ship to get clear of the danger zone. Umpire is Pleased.

Lieutenant-Colonel Campbell, chief umpire of the practice, expressed himself as well pleased with the showing made.

"The official figures haven't been reported to me as yet," he said this noon, "but if, as I understand, eight hits for range were made, I think the record will be excellent, for all the shots were good for deflection. Of course, the results obtained from observation on the tug and ashore will all have to be carefully plotted before the exact point of splash can be ascertained, but I think it is safe to predict a good percentage of hits. I lay the great improvement in shooting over the first day's practice to the fact that the record shots were fired at about the same spot where the four trial shots were sent. In mortar firing, and especially under local conditions, the air currents are very variable, and, as the object of trial shots is largely to determine the drift of projectiles, it stands to reason that they should be fired as nearly as possible in the direction that the target will eventually be. Another point is that yesterday the tug continued on a steady course, towing the target smoothly behind it, while last Monday the course was changed sharply, owing to the sending of a delayed signal from shore, which should never have been sent after the firing opened.

Firing in Quick Time. The record firing yesterday was completed in 10m 51s, the delay of one minute being caused by a change in the azimuth, or lateral aim, just as a shot was to be fired. The fire was delayed until the next bell, in order to re-lay the piece.

Yesterday it was assumed for the purposes of the problem that the battery commander's station was out of commission, and that the shots had to be fired exactly on one minute intervals, and not at the arbitrary signal of the battery commander.

ASKS $3000 FOR HIS BROKEN NOSE

Victim of Auto Accident Sues Driver of Car for Damages

Three thousand dollars damages for a broken nose and sundry other disfigurement and extremely painful injuries is the amount asked by Frank Ward Huestace in a suit filed in circuit court this morning against Angus F. McDonald, with whom Huestace collided at Pihoko and King streets a few weeks ago. McDonald, in his automobile, crashed into Huestace's motorcycle at the corner on a dark night, and it was charged at the time that the driver of the motor car turned to the left at the corner, failing to obey the rule of the road. This charge is reiterated in Huestace's allegation filed today.

DEMOCRATS WILL RATIFY PARTY'S CHOICE

At a meeting of the Democratic Central Committee held last night arrangements were completed for the big Wilson-Marshall ratification meeting to be held Saturday evening at Aala Park.

Among the speakers announced for the occasion are: L. L. McCandless, Mayor J. J. Fern, Judge A. A. Wilder, Kanio, of Kohala; G. J. Waller, John Effinger, Harry Irwin, M. C. Pacheco. The Hawaiian band and the Quintette Club will furnish the music for the occasion. The committee announces that there will be plenty of chairs and that prominent Democrats of the city have been invited to occupy the speaker's platform.

The committee appointed for the purpose was reported to be hard at work preparing the platform to be submitted to the Democratic county convention for approval.

BIG AUTO RACES ON SATURDAY AT KAPIOLANI PARK

The rattle and roar of motor exhausts will be heard at Kapiolani Park Saturday afternoon, when auto enthusiasts of the city come together for a combined speed carnival and gymkhana, which promises to be one of the most interesting events for "buzz wagons" ever seen in the islands. A day or so ago it was feared that the five and ten-mile races would not fill, and that they would have to be called off, but at the eleventh hour the motorists came out in force, and five starters in each event are now assured.

The same cars are entered in each of these events—that is, provided that drivers and racers survive the first without accident. The races have added interest owing to the fact that there will be one amateur at the throttle of a big Pope-Hartford, Commodore Warren D. Wood of the South Coast Yacht Club desiring to show his friends in Hawaii that a nautical wheel isn't the only one he knows how to handle. George R. Carter has entered two cars in the two speed events, and the von Hamm-Young Company has a 4-cylinder Buick being tuned up for action. A Palmer-Singer "six" owned by L. L. McCandless is the fifth car of the aggregation. Frank Shaner will handle the Buick and Johnny Gluney the Palmer-Singer.

The track is being placed in fine condition through the courtesy of the park commission and Mr. Young, superintendent of the park, who has entered heart and soul in the project. The park equipment is placed at the committee's disposal. Dick Bodge and Commodore Wood have the track shaping in their charge. The committee asks the public to buy the club flag that has been gotten out for the occasion, so as to help them finance the project.

The event is free and all are welcome. Flags will be sold to all who care to help at the park entrance at 50 cents apiece, also at different points of the city. The mayor has promised the Royal Hawaiian Band for the occasion.

The committee in charge of the gymkhana will meet tonight to elect officers of the new club and close up arrangements for the meet. The Mid-Pacific Motorcycle Club will cooperate in the general plan.

The program, of which nine events are scheduled, will be subject to minor changes to suit the owners and drivers. Cups have been donated by the von Hamm-Young Co. and the Royal Hawaiian Garage for the speed races, and merchandise prizes will be given for the other events.

The program is scheduled to start at 2 sharp on the afternoon of Saturday, August 17, and the committee wishes to make it plain that admission is free.

Following are the order of events and the committee in charge of arrangements:

1. Barrel Race; 10 barrels, line.
 2. Hupmobile Race; 3 miles.
 3. Slowest, High Gear; ¼ mile.
 4. Roadster Race (up to 50 h. p. A. L. A. M.); 2 miles.

 9. Speed Race (free for all); 5 miles.
 10. Speed Race (free for all); 10 miles.
- Cars can be stripped to chassis in all events. Mufflers can be removed. General committee—A. L. Castle, Gus Schaefer, D. W. Douthitt, Fred Wichman, N. B. Courtenay, Dick Bodge, Sidney R. Jordan. FEDERAL PAROLE BOARD IS NAMED

Appointment of the Federal board of parole for the Territory came through Attorney General Wickham yesterday afternoon to U. S. District Attorney Breckons and Assistant Attorney General Peyton Gordon. The members are Robert V. LaDow, Federal superintendent of prisons and prisoners, of the Department of Justice, who resides and has his headquarters at Washington, D. C.; High Sheriff and Warden William Henry of Honolulu, and Associate City and County Physician William L. Moore, who serves as prison physician here.

LaDow is to be present ex-officio of the board of paroles, which is to meet this afternoon to adopt formally the rules for procedure. These rules will be virtually the same in every respect as those at present in vogue in the Federal penitentiaries throughout the States.

Federal prisoners who are sentenced for one year or more may profit by the new parole law, which was enacted in 1910, but they can make use of the privilege until they have served one-third of the sentence imposed. Whether there are Federal prisoners on Oahu who may profit immediately by the law and the appointment of the board, Attorney Breckons was unable to say this morning.

On his own application Colonel John Conklin, commanding the Second Field Artillery at Vancouver Barracks, Washington, was placed upon the retired list after more than thirty-one years' service. Colonel Conklin is a native of New York and was graduated from the Military Academy in June, 1884, and from the Artillery School in 1890. His entire service has been in the artillery arm of the service, in which he remained the grade of colonel last February.
